and other savings via www.peprotechec.com

Online ordering of our products simplifies order processing, improves accuracy, and saves time. To translate these benefits to your advantage, we are glad to announce that effective September 1st 2009 all orders placed on our website by end users will be exempt from shipping and handling charges*. Furthermore, to promote ordering via our website, we are also offering for a limited time only the following internet discount program: Orders of standard size vials (size B) of all recombinant proteins including animal-free recombinant proteins placed on our website between 8am-6pm GMT on the 2nd Tuesday of the month for the remainder of 2009 will be 30% and 35% respectively. There is no limit to the number of vials per order, which like any other order placed on our website after August 31st 2009 will be exempt from shipping and handling charges.

* Not including duties and taxes.
